Superintendent of Schools

Erica S. Taylor

Executive Director

Charleston, SC — Charleston County School District will be able to welcome back all students tomorrow, Wednesday, October 12, 2016.

This now includes Minnie Hughes Elementary at its regular start time. The reopening of E.B. Ellington and West Ashley Head Start was announced earlier today.

Starting tomorrow, CCSD will provide the opportunity for students from Jane Edwards to be bused to Minnie Hughes for instruction by their regular teachers each day this week. Bus routes and pick-up times for Jane Edwards students will remain the same. We ask for your assistance and understanding while we transport students to Minnie Hughes temporarily. We also stress, "temporarily," because we do understand students need to be in their own school. Repairs to the school are ongoing and will be completed as soon as possible.

Again, we look forward to welcoming all of our students back tomorrow.

About the Charleston County School District

Charleston County School District (CCSD) is the second largest school system in South Carolina representing a unique blend of urban, suburban, and rural schools that span 1,000 square miles along the coast. CCSD serves more than 50,000 students in 86 schools and several specialized programs. With approximately 6,100 employees district-wide, CCSD is the fourth largest employer in the region.

CCSD offers a diverse, expanding portfolio of options and specialized programs, delivered through neighborhood, charter, magnet, IB (international baccalaureate), and Montessori schools, and is divided into three Learning Communities led by associate superintendents. Options include specialized programs in science, engineering and mathematics; liberal arts; music and other creative and performing arts; career and technical preparation programs; and military and other public service enterprises.
